TENANT PROFILE

KinderCare Learning Centers is an American operator of for-profit child care and early childhood education facilities founded in 1969 and currently owned by KinderCare Education based in Portland, Oregon. The company provides educational programs for children from six weeks to 12 years old. KinderCare is the third-largest privately held company headquartered in Oregon. In 39 states and the District of Columbia, some 200,000 children are enrolled in more than 1,600 early childhood education community centers, over 600 before-and-after school programs, and over 100 employer-sponsored centers.

KinderCare was acquired in 2005 by the Knowledge Learning Corporation (KLC) division of Michael Milken's privately held education services firm, Knowledge Universe. The deal, valued at over US$1 billion, made KLC the nation's largest private child care and education provider.

In 2012, company revenues were $1.45 billion, down from $1.6 billion in 2010.

In July 2015, Partners Group, a Swiss enterprise, bought Knowledge Universe. Knowledge Universe renamed itself as KinderCare Education in January 2016. The parent company, KinderCare Education, also operates Knowledge Beginnings, Children's Creative Learning Centers (CCLC), and Champions.

KinderCare Education Offers K-6 Families Back to School Solutions August 13, 2020

As families across the country navigate the complexities of this back to school season, many face the challenge of balancing learning and care in a way that's safe and manageable for the entire family. KinderCare Education, the nation's largest private provider of early childhood and school-age education and care, is leading the way with flexible programs designed to support families with best-in-class curriculum and industry-leading health and safety practices.

"We know families face unique challenges during this back to school season as they balance work with their children's care and education," said Tom Wyatt, CEO of KinderCare. "As one of the only nationwide early childhood education companies that continued operating throughout the pandemic, we're uniquely suited to bring that expertise to support families with school-age children. Our programs offer families flexible solutions that provide a safe place for children to continue to learn and grow."

Continued Education:	KinderCare Education, the nation's largest private provider of early childhood and school-age education and care, is leading the way with flexible programs designed to support families with best in-class curriculum and industry-leading health and safety practices.
Adaptive Uses:	KinderCare Centers now support K-6 learning. Trained teachers support students as they learn online or outside of their regular classroom through their school curriculum and offers project-based activities for children to do outside of their virtual classroom in subjects such as STEM, art physical activity and more.
Safe Learning Environments:	With enhanced health and safety protocols developed in partnership with the CDC and a panel of medical and pediatric experts, KinderCare provides the safest environment possible for children.

— REALTY —

Pickerington is a city in Fairfield and Franklin counties in the central region of the U.S. state of Ohio. It was founded in 1815 as Jacksonville, named after Andrew Jackson. Pickerington was known as Jacksonville until 1827, when the citizens petitioned the state legislature to change the name to Pickerington in honor of its founder, Abraham Pickering. It is a suburb of Columbus. The population was 18,291 at the 2010 census. As land annexation, development, and immigration into the Columbus area continues, the city of Pickerington (like many area suburbs) has generally followed suit. Pickerington is also home to the Motorcycle Hall of Fame, located at 13515 Yarmouth Dr. off Interstate 70.

The Ohio Secretary of State certified Pickerington as a city in 1991 and it was designated as the "Violet Capital of Ohio" in 1996 by the Ohio Legislature. At 11.1 sq mi (29 km²), Pickerington is the second-largest city in Fairfield County behind Lancaster. Pickerington is located just east of Columbus. The city features a historic downtown shopping area, while Violet Township is home to rolling hills, log houses, forests, and fields.

Motorcycle Hall of Fame

The AMA Motorcycle Hall of Fame Museum is an offshoot of the American Motorcyclist Association, recognizing individuals who have contributed to motorcycle sport, motorcycle construction, or motorcycling in general. It also displays motorcycles, riding gear, and memorabilia.

Pickerington Community Theatre

An all-volunteer organization dedicated to creating dramatic arts opportunities for all in Central Ohio. Whether it's an hilarious musical comedy or a serious Agatha Christie murder mystery, whether it's improv comedy or a multigenerational variety show, PCT has something for everyone.

Pickerington Ponds Metro Park

Pickerington Ponds is a premier spot for bird-watching. The combination of seasonal ponds and rich wetland vegetation, with bordering woodlands, serve as a magnet for migrating waterfowl, shore birds and land birds. Deer, beaver, fox and other wildlife can be seen near the ponds and adjoining woods and fields of this 1,608 acre park.
