ABOUT THE BRAND | CHURCH'S CHICKEN

In 1952, George W. Church opened the very first Church's Chicken To-Go restaurant in San Antonio, Texas. Today, the Church's Chicken headquarters is in Atlanta, Georgia, and the company is bringing in an estimated $1.2 billion in revenue annually.

Church's Chicken is all about "Bringin' That Down Home Flavor" by creating delicious southern comfort foods for over 60 years. Church's Chicken is known first and foremost for their fried chicken, but also offer a variety of sides like mashed potatoes and gravy, baked macaroni and cheese, fried okra, cole slaw, corn on the cob, french fries, jalapeno cheese bombers, and honey-butter biscuits. The company is also passionate about giving back. Church's Chicken has partnered with No Kid Hungry since 2016. Church's was named the Dine Out for No Kid Hungry Newcomer of the Year after finding great success in fundraising. To date, Church's Chicken has raised over $700,000 for this cause resulting in 7 million nutritious meals for children across the country.
