Austin once again named the fastest growing major metro in the US in 2021 (U.S. Census Bureau)

Major Metro

Austin is the capital city of Texas and is the economic heart of Central Texas.

It is the 11th most populous city in the United States and the 4th most populous city in Texas.

Austin was recently named the No. 1 place to live in America for the third year in a row by Forbes, based on affordability, job prospects and quality of life.

It's no secret that Austin, Texas is a hotbed for technology, startups and innovation. There are so many tech companies that Austin has been nicknamed "Silicon Hills." Apple recently announced that it is creating a $1 billion campus with the capacity for 15,000 employees, making it the largest private employer in Austin. Austin has long been the tech center of Texas, with 6,500 startups and tech companies based here, including Dell. A number of Fortune 500 companies have headquarters or regional offices in Austin, including Amazon, Apple, Cisco, General Motors, Google, IBM, Oracle, Texas Instruments, 3M and Whole Foods Market. Oracle's new 40-acre Austin campus is located less than mile from the 7-Eleven site on the riverfront. With over $1 billion invested to date, the company plans to employ and house up to 10,000 employees there. The city is also the home of South by Southwest (SXSW), which has transformed from an indie music gathering into one of the world's most trendsetting technology festivals. Austin is a special place with an appealing culture. It has an abundance of great parks, river access, hike and bike trails, good food, great music and a collaborative culture. Austin also has a highly educated workforce, thanks in part to the University of Texas and other local universities. Austin's low cost of living adds to its appeal. There's no personal income tax, and the city has more affordable housing than on the coasts, from which it pulls a lot of its transplants.

Elon Musk Makes Good on Tesla's Promise to Bring Thousands of Middle-Skilled Jobs to Texas

MARIA MERANO, MARCH 31, 2021 (TESLARATI)

In June 2020, Tesla's proposal for Giga Texas indicated that its Cybertruck Factory would bring up to 9,000 jobs total into the state.

The panelists accounted for the jobs that would indirectly come from the Cybertruck Factory's general operations. One panelist suggested that dozens of suppliers would follow Tesla into Texas, resulting in more jobs.

"Later that year, in November, panelists from the second annual East Austin Growth Summit estimated that Tesla Giga Texas could bring closer to 15,000 jobs into the Lone Star State"

Tesla seems adamant about bringing middle-skilled jobs to Texas. According to the Austin Business Journal, Tesla has established relationships with Austin Community College, Huston-Tillotson University, the University of Texas, and the Del Valle Independent School District. According to Tesla's director of recruiting and workforce development, Chris Reilly, the company is "thinking of recruiting students who can graduate high school and start a career at Tesla while continuing their education."

Austin Named Fastest Growing Major Metro in the US

DINAH CHUKWU, MAY 4, 2021 (KVUE)

It's no surprise that Austin is once again the fastest growing big metropolitan city in the country.

According to U.S. Census Bureau figures released May 4, Austin's multi-county metro population increased to an estimated 2,295,303 people as of last July. This was a 3% increase from the previous year, making it the fastest population growth among metros with at least 1 million residents.

The Austin metro now ranks 29th among the nation's largest metros, moving up one spot from the previous year and ranking just behind Las Vegas, Pittsburgh and Sacramento.

"Since 2010, the Austin metro gained about 579,014 residents, a 34% population growth"

In terms of raw population growth, the Austin metro averaged 184 new residents every day. That includes a natural increase of births minus deaths, as well as net migration, which accounts for people leaving the Austin area.

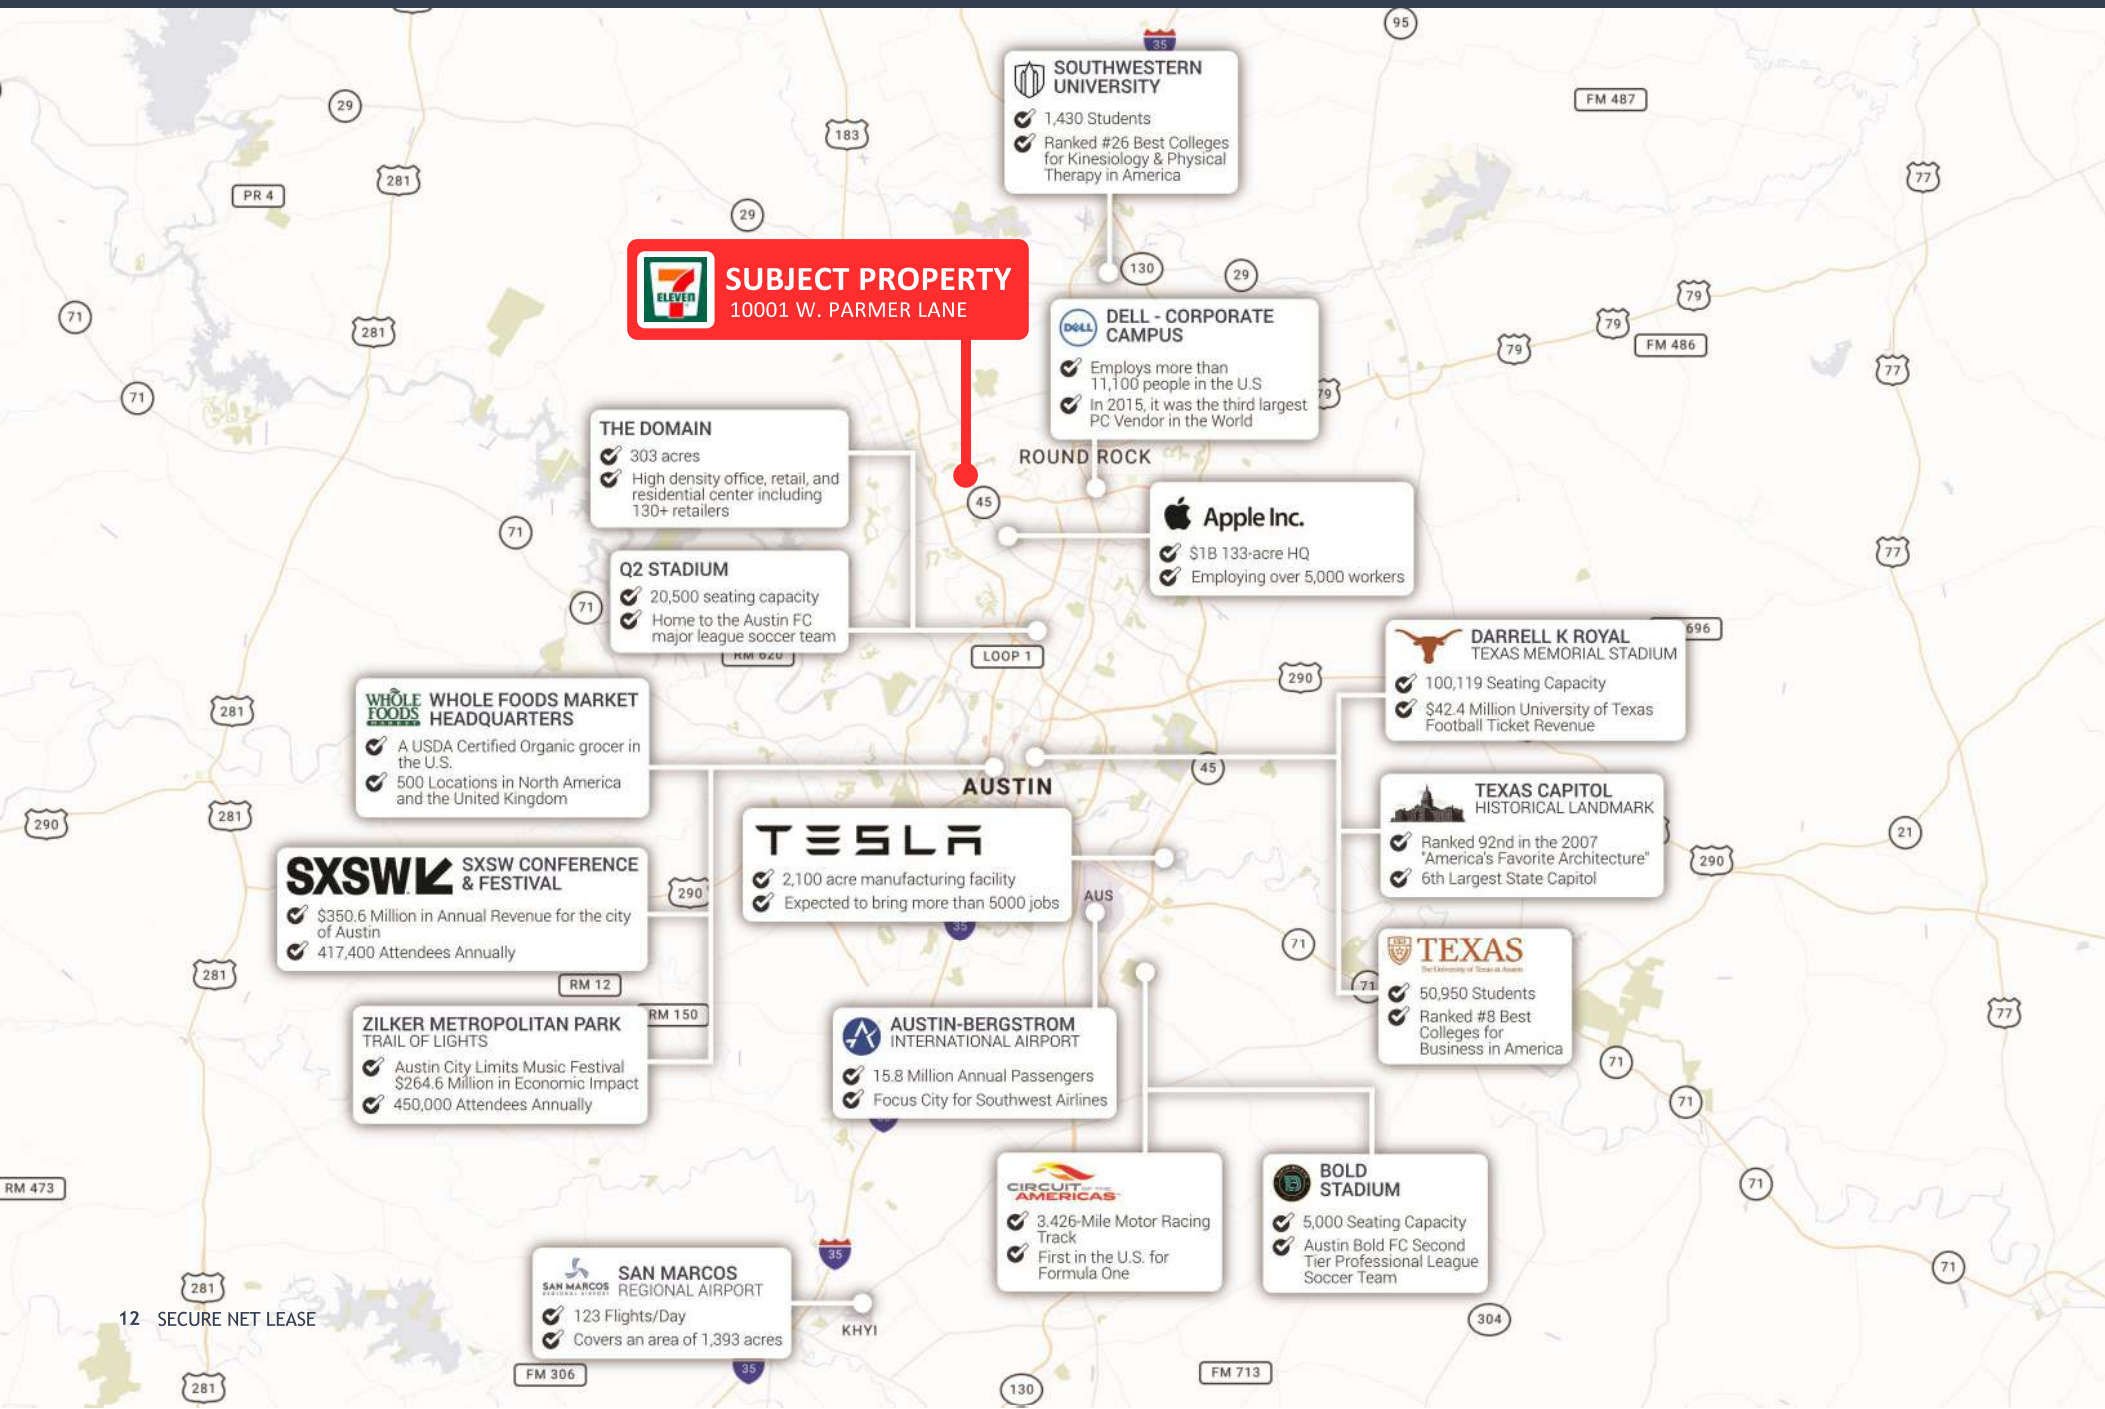

This recent dataset also shows that metros in Silicon Valley are seeing an exodus of residents last year, as many residents have reportedly relocated to Austin, according to The Austin Business Journal. The San Francisco metro population decreased by 27,114 residents from mid-2019 to mid-2020, according to Census data, and the San Jose metro dropped by 14,054.

TEXAS DISCLAIMER

7-ELEVEN AUSTIN, TX

Approved by the Texas Real Estate Commission for Voluntary Use

Texas law requires all real estate licensees to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

Information about brokerage services

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties' consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated by law to treat you honestly.

If the broker represents the owner

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written – listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The buyer should not tell the owner's agent anything the buyer would not want the owner to know because an owner's agent must disclose to the owner any material information the owner knows.

If the broker represents the buyer

The broker becomes the buyer's agent by entering into an agreement to represent the buyer, usually through a written buyer representation agreement. A buyer's agent can assist the owner but does not represent the owner and must place the interests of the buyer first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

If the broker acts as an intermediary

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- Shall treat all parties honestly
- May not disclose that the owner will accept a price less than the asking price
- Submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the owner;
- May not disclose that the buyer will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the buyer; and
- May not disclose any confidential information or any information that a part specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property.

With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions.
