Racine is a village located in Meigs County, Ohio, in the southeastern region of the state. The village is situated along the Ohio River and has a population of approximately 700 residents. The area was originally inhabited by Native American tribes, including the Shawnee and the Mingo, and was later settled by European pioneers in the early 19th century.

Today, Racine is a quiet and peaceful community that offers a range of outdoor recreational activities, including fishing, boating, and hiking. The village is home to several parks, including Star Mill Park, which features a playground, basketball court, and picnic area, as well as access to the Ohio River. The nearby Shade River State Forest also provides opportunities for hunting, camping, and nature watching.

Racine is known for its strong sense of community and is home to several local events and festivals throughout the year. The annual Racine Party in the Park, held in August, is a popular event that features live music, food vendors, and a car show. The village also hosts a Christmas parade and tree lighting ceremony in December, as well as an Easter egg hunt and other family-friendly activities throughout the year. Overall, Racine offers a peaceful and friendly atmosphere for those looking to escape the hustle and bustle of city life.
