7-Eleven Unveils Latest Evolution Store in Dallas

JUNE 06, 2022 (SUPERMARKET NEWS)

7-Eleven’s next-generation Evolution Stores have always included a restaurant component, and the newest location in Dallas is no different.

Laredo Taco Company serves tacos on fresh-made flour tortillas, and its signature salsa bar with a wide selection of salsas and toppings, such as salsa roja, salsa verde, creamy cilantro and habanero. Specialty dishes include fajitas, chorizo, carne asada, carnitas and breakfast tacos made with fresh-cracked eggs. And there’s another reason the new location inside 7-Eleven should appeal to customers who can’t get enough Tex-Mex cuisine: Unlike other Laredo Taco Company restaurants, this one offers an extended covered patio for customers who like outdoor seating, frozen margaritas and beer on tap.

The Irving, Texas-based convenience store giant on Friday unveiled its fifth Evolution Store in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, located at the corner of Preston Road and Alpha Road in Dallas. The new store boasts a Laredo Taco Company restaurant, the popular south Texas concept known for its authentic flavors of the Texas and Mexico border, and features customizable beverage options, a premium cigar humidor and the latest digital innovations, according to the company.

“We’re excited to unveil the next iteration of the 7-Eleven Evolution Store in Dallas, offering an assortment of curated products, services and features that are customized to the neighborhood and customers we serve,” Molly Long, vice president of store evolution and design at 7-Eleven, said in a statement. “The customer is getting the convenience they expect from 7-Eleven coupled with a delicious, restaurant-quality dining option and unique and innovative beverages.”

7-Eleven Tops Best Grocery Store List

MATTHEW STERN, DECEMBER 12, 2022 (RETAIL WIRE)

These days, the favorite grocery store in the U.S. is not even a supermarket, a new survey says.

Based on research from YouGov, Convenience store chain 7-Eleven is the most popular place for people in the U.S. to get their groceries, according to Eat This, Not That. With a 62 percent popularity rating, the retailer beat out discounter Aldi and supermarket giant Kroger (which both had a 61 percent rating).

Trader Joe’s and Whole Foods came in fourth and fifth on the list (at 58 percent and 53 percent, respectively). Albertsons and Piggly Wiggly also made an appearance, as well as other convenience stores including Circle K and 7-Eleven-owned Speedway. Millennials, in particular, favor 7-Eleven more than Baby Boomers and Generation Xers, who preferred to shop at Kroger. And men chose 7-Eleven more than women, who were bigger fans of Aldi.

Convenience stores have become a more popular meal destination at a time when inflation is driving people to be more cost conscious, as a PYMNTS article explores. Low-income consumers have been turning to food pickup from c-stores rather than pricier delivery.

Foodservice is a point of emphasis at 7-Eleven, but has not been its sole focus. The chain recently opened its ninth “Evolution” store in the country and fifth in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. This particular location features an in-store Laredo Taco Company restaurant, custom beverages and even a premium cigar humidor. 7-Eleven Evolution stores are meant as testing grounds for new technologies and offerings, and gives the retailer an opportunity to tweak product and design in response to customer feedback.

Laredo, Texas is the county seat of Webb County and located on the north bank of the Rio Grande River in South Texas, across from Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Founded in 1755, Laredo grew from a village to the capital of the short-lived Republic of the Rio Grande to the largest inland port on the Mexican border.

Laredo is home to one of the oldest crossing points along the Mexico-United States border. It's also the nation's largest inland port of entry. This has enabled Laredo to flourish while blending the two distinct cultures of the U.S. and Mexico.

Laredo's economy is primarily based on the international trade with the United States' largest trading partner, Mexico, and as a major hub for land, rail, and air cargo transportation.

The city is on the southern end of I-35, which connects manufacturers in northern Mexico through Interstate 35 as a major route for trade throughout the U.S. Laredo is the 11th-most populous city in Texas and the third-most populous U.S. city on the Mexican border. Laredo is home to Texas A&M International University and Laredo College. Laredo International Airport is within the Laredo city limits, while the Quetzalcoatl International Airport is nearby Nuevo Laredo on the Mexico side.

Survey ranks Laredo as the seventh safest city in America

FEBRUARY 17, 2023 (KGNS)

A national survey ranks the City of Laredo as one of the top ten safest cities in America. According to the SmartAsset.com, Laredo made a significant jump from number 13 to number seven in the same study last year.

The study focuses on various factors including the evaluation of 200 of the largest cities in the country across five metrics related to crimes such as violent crime, property crime, vehicle mortality and drug poisoning mortality.

“I think we should be proud of that because Laredo is a very important strategic point, and we are the largest land port, we have to be a safe city, not only that we have to be, we are a safe city and we’ve been a safe city because of all the presence of our multiple law enforcement agencies,” said Mayor Dr. Trevino.

Laredo Mayor Dr. Victor Trevino believes that these findings are the result of good policing in our community.

The city that took the number one spot was Frisco Texas which had the fourth lowest violent crime rate.

McKinney, Texas took the second spot and McAllen took the third.

Laredo, already the dominant land port between the U.S. and Mexico, could soon play a larger role

SARAH ASCH, JANUARY 13, 2023 (TEXAS PUBLIC RADIO)

Laredo has long been the dominant land port between the United States and Mexico, but according to reporting by The New York Times, the city may soon play an even larger role on the global economic stage.

In the wake of supply chain upheaval and alarmed by tensions with China, some U.S. companies are shifting production from across the Pacific to Mexico. This could signal that more goods could soon be streaming across the several international bridges that straddle the Rio Grande between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo across the border.

Daniel Covarrubias: The Port of Laredo is a very important port. Many people, when they speak about ports, they just think about seaports via Los Angeles, airports – Chicago, JFK. But the Port of Laredo, it’s right up there. It’s always in the top three. In numbers, from January to November of 2022, $275 billion in total trade have moved through Laredo. So that brings it down to about $25 billion a month. And if you bring it down to a day, it’s about $833 million a day of total trade that moves through Laredo.

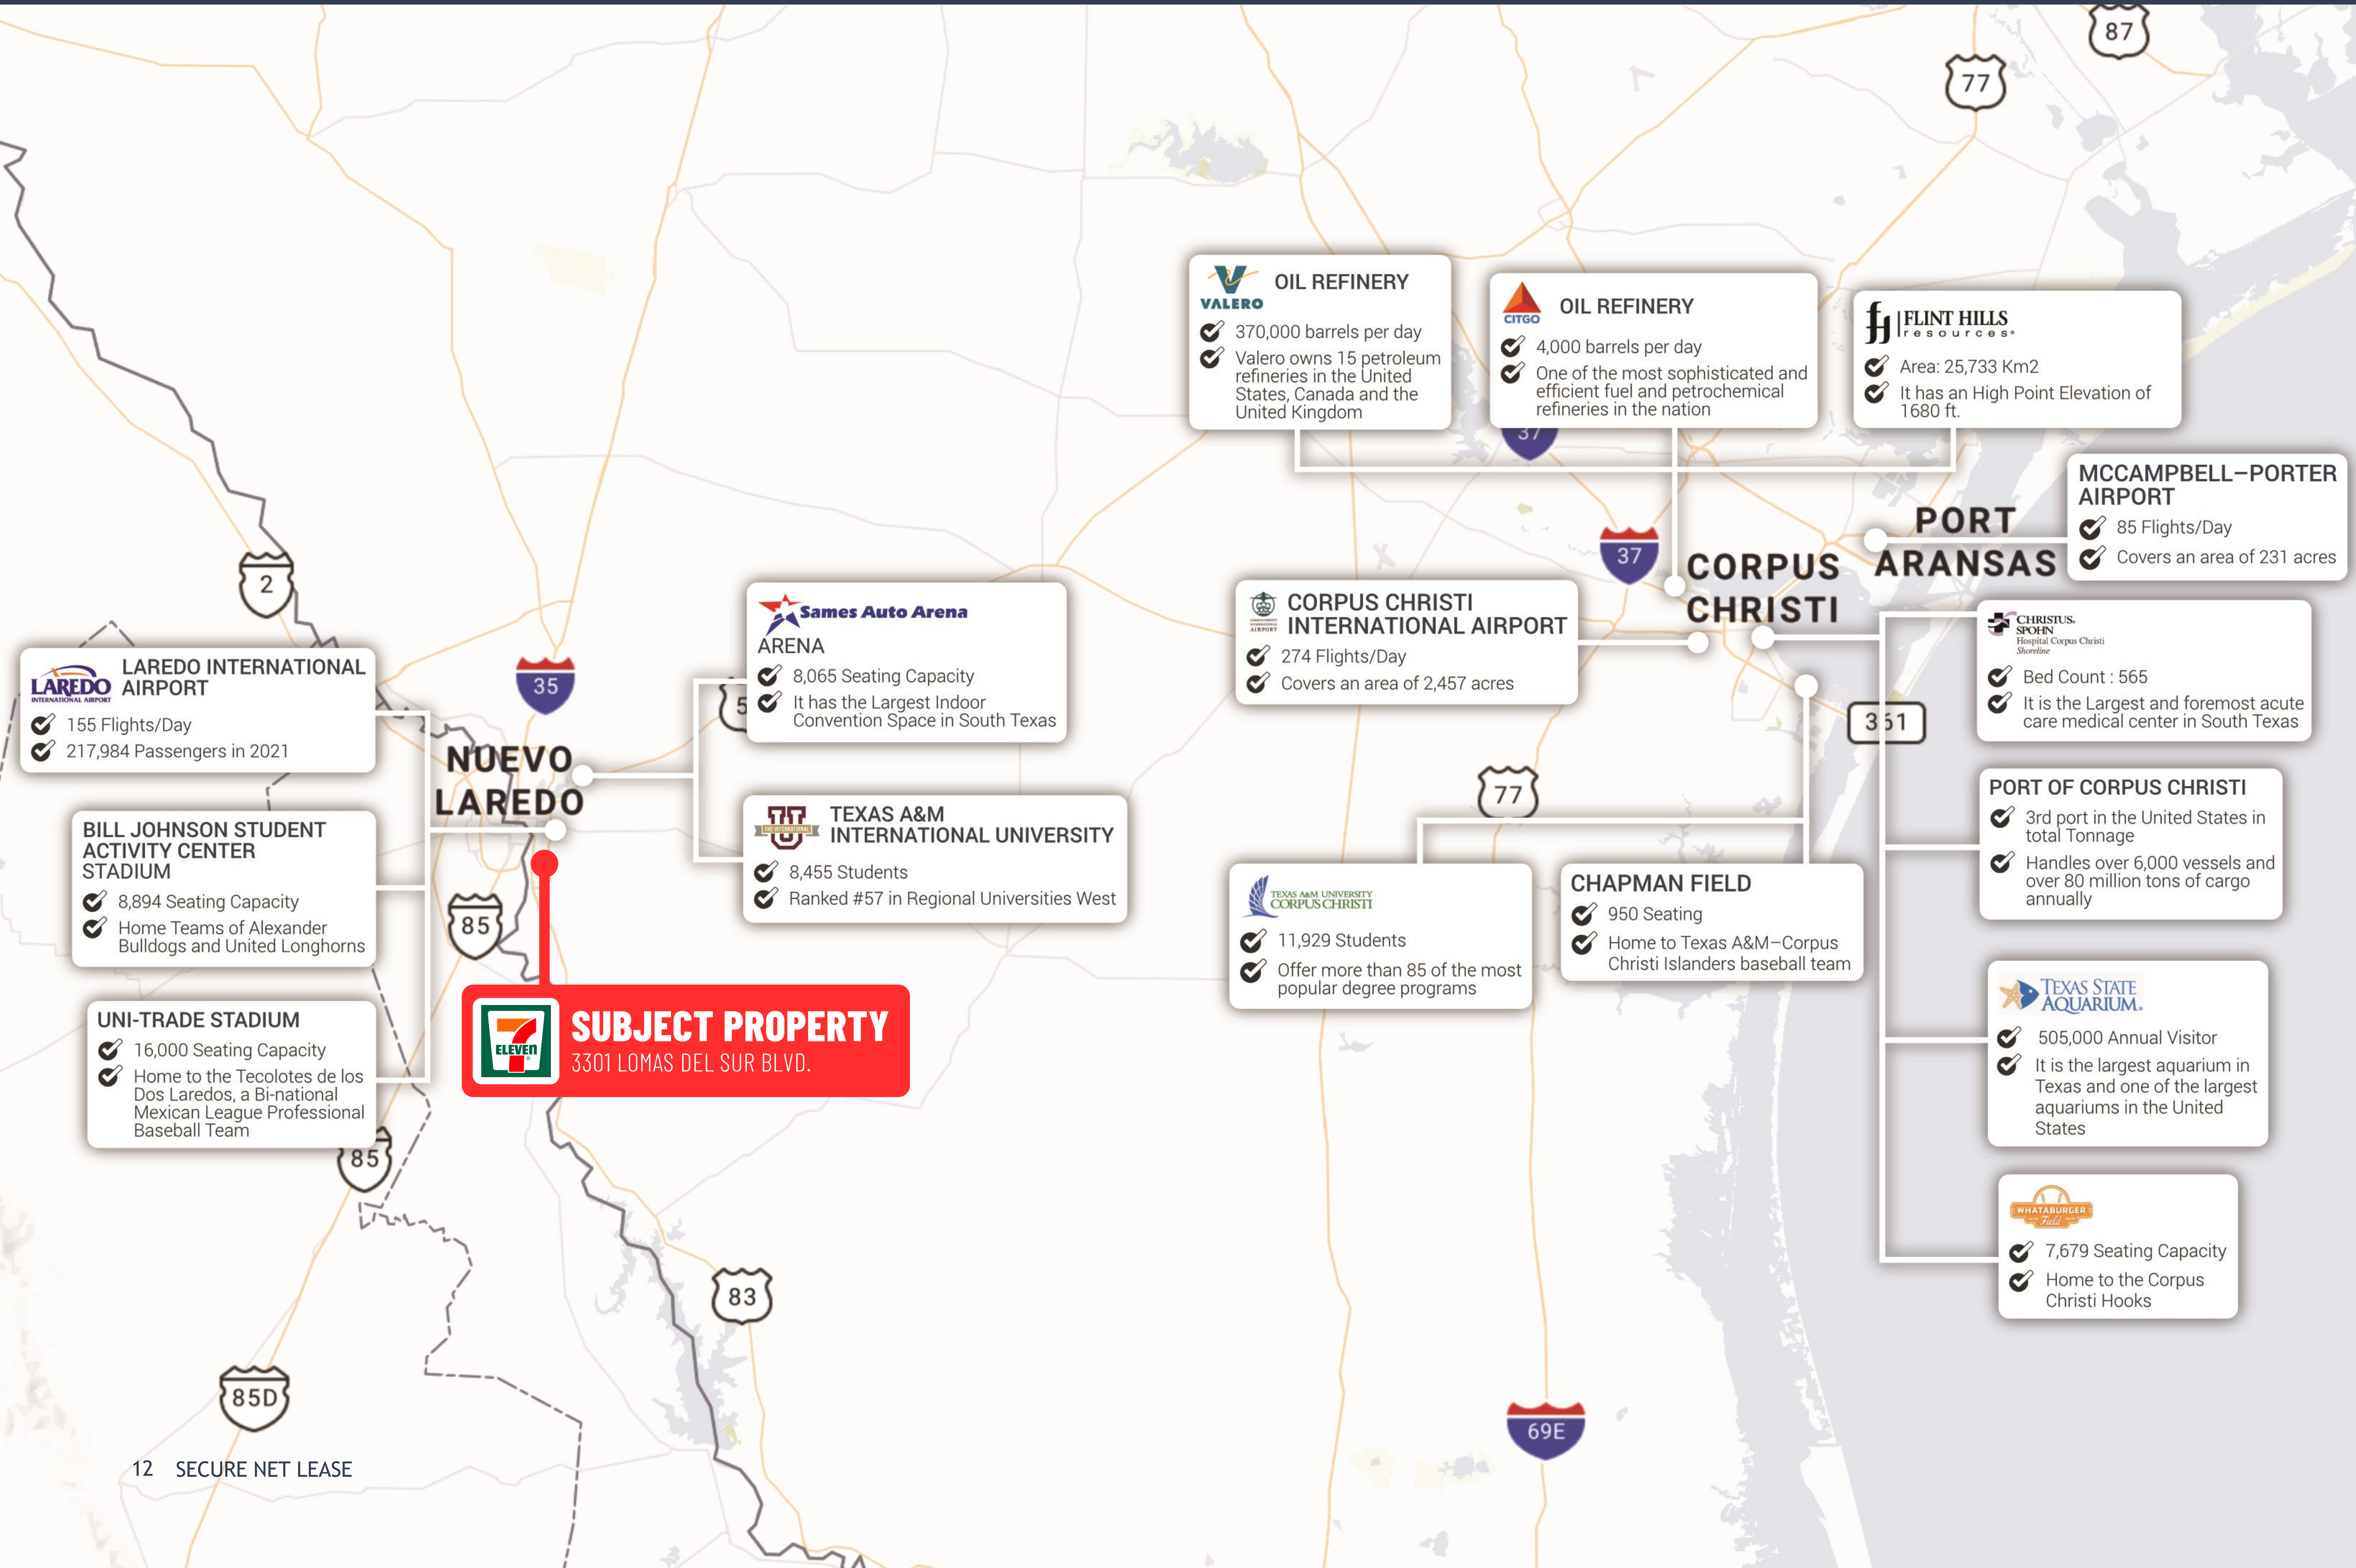

Daniel Covarrubias, director of the Texas Center for Border Economic and Enterprise Development research and data center at Texas A&M International University in Laredo, joined Texas Standard to talk about the new role Laredo could play in the global economy. Listen to the story above or read the transcript below.

Well, that target that you’re speaking about, there’s this whole trend called “nearshoring.” And nearshoring basically is what you are describing of companies relocating their supply chain components and regionalize that a bit more. So bringing it down to not suffer those supply chain strains that they suffer from the pandemic. We still haven’t seen an uptick in numbers. It’s something that’s going to take a while.

TEXAS DISCLAIMER

7-ELEVEN LAREDO, TX

Approved by the Texas Real Estate Commission for Voluntary Use

Texas law requires all real estate licensees to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

Information about brokerage services

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties' consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated by law to treat you honestly.

If the broker represents the owner

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written – listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The buyer should not tell the owner's agent anything the buyer would not want the owner to know because an owner's agent must disclose to the owner any material information the owner knows.

If the broker represents the buyer

The broker becomes the buyer's agent by entering into an agreement to represent the buyer, usually through a written buyer representation agreement. A buyer's agent can assist the owner but does not represent the owner and must place the interests of the buyer first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

If the broker acts as an intermediary

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- Shall treat all parties honestly
- May not disclose that the owner will accept a price less than the asking price
- Submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the owner;
- May not disclose that the buyer will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the buyer; and
- May not disclose any confidential information or any information that a part specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property.

With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions.
